'TASRAIL'

'TasRail operations, capital program, links with industry and decarbonisation opportunities'

TasRail is one of the largest transport service providers in Tasmania. State transport infrastructure plays a critical role in the security and defence of the nation, but do we understand the capability and vulnerability of these systems?

Our speaker Neale Tomlin joined TasRail in 2016, as a logistics and commercial consultant, and joined the Executive team in 2018. He has project and executive management experience in the private and government sectors, especially in the areas of logistics, marine construction, and tourism. Neale's specific expertise extends to project recovery, business development, and strategic planning. He has worked with many well-known Tasmanian businesses, including Hydrowood, a world-first underwater logging operation at Tullah on Tasmania's west coast.

As TasRail's Strategic Projects and Sustainability manager, Neale is responsible to develop TasRail's capital project pipeline, prepare business cases and creating a technical pathway for zero (low) emission freight locomotives.

The Presentation will start at 7pm

Drinks and nibbles provided from 6.30pm
